NON-IRRIGATED AREAS SUFFER DRYING WINDS

On The Other Hand, Irrigated Districts Rejoice In Ample Supplies Of Water

(From the fortnightly report of the Horticultural Branch, Provincial Department of Agriculture, Vernon.)

Vernon, B. C., July 21, 1934.
Salmon Arm, Sorrento and Main Line Points, July 18

Fairly cool weather, with occasional light showers, has continued since the last News Letter was issued. Unfortunately, however, high winds have been frequent and loss of soil moisture from this cause has been heavy.

Tree fruits continue to size rapidly, and in apples some varieties will probably run to the large sizes. The crop is very free from insect injury and fairly so from Scab so far. Transparent and Duchess are moving from Salmon Arm and a few Wealthy cookers have moved from Kamloops. Cherries of excellent quality are still moving from Salmon Arm, also loganberries and raspberries. The construction of the cold storage plant at the Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange is proceeding apace.

Vegetable crops in the irrigated sections look very promising. Semi-ripe tomatoes and cucumbers are moving from Thompson River points, and corn will be ready very shortly. Onions promise a heavy yield.

The weather has been tricky for haying and much hay is out in the Salmon River valley. Crops are excellent and the second cutting of alfalfa is under way.

Armstrong, Vernon, Oyama, Okanagan Centre, Winfield, July 20

Weather conditions continue variable, with alternating hot and cool periods. The worst feature, however, is the persistent winds which are the cause of depletion of soil moisture to a greater extent than the heat, and the damaging effect of these winds is evident on the higher lands in non-irrigated sections.

All fruits are sizing rapidly and there is an excellent colour showing for this period of the season. Apple Scab is showing up freely in some sections and will undoubtedly be responsible for crop reduction in some varieties. The effect of this will be dealt with in the next issue of crop estimates. Irrigation water is ample, and in the irrigated districts soil moisture can be considered good. Drouth Spot is showing up in a general way throughout the district and may also have some slight effect on reducing crop prospects. Apricots and early plums are being harvested, as are also Duchess apples. (Continued on Page 4)

KAMLOOPS VETERANS BURN MORTGAGE

Canadian Legion Debt Of $9,000.00 Wiped Out

The Kamloops Branch of the Canadian Legion celebrated a most auspicious occasion on Wednesday night of last week, when a mortgage of $9,000 on the premises of the branch was given to the flames, the debt having been lifted. At an appropriate point of the programme the lights were put out and an amusing play was performed, at the end of which the document was destroyed, the flames lighting up with flickering shadows only a few faces in front.

Col. W. S. Buell, President of the Provincial Command, was in attendance, and congratulatory messages were received from General Sir Percy Lake, Dominion President, and from various branches.

FREIGHT TRAIN RIDERS HALTED

Westbound Hoboes Forced To Disembark At Field

The Provincial Police are keeping close check upon freight trains entering the province from the prairies, and at Field all men found beating their way are being forced to get off and are not allowed to proceed any further. The R.C.M.P. are also checking up westbound trains at Kamloops and clearing them of any transients who may have managed to sneak through. On the other hand, eastbound freights are not examined—probably on the principle of good riddance for hoboes travelling in that direction.

AUSTRIAN CHANCELLOR SLAIN BY OPPONENTS

After many escapes from assassination during his hectic political career, the diminutive but fiery and courageous Engelbert Dollfuss, Chancellor of Austria, met death on Wednesday, when he succumbed to wounds received during the struggle that occurred when revolting Nazis and Socialists seized him and his cabinet. He had assumed practically dictatorial powers, having reorganized the Austria cabinet and concentrating in his own hands the portfolios of Foreign Affairs, Security, Defence and Agriculture.

O.-C. TRAIL PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Interest In Route Is Stimulated By Commencement Of Work On Grand Coulee Dam

Mr. Ray W. Clark, of Wenatchee, President of the Okanogan-Cariboo Trail Association, announces that preparations are under way to cope with the big demand for information regarding the Okanogan-Cariboo Trail which is being experienced and which is being intensified by the interest stimulated by commencement of construction of the Grand Coulee Dam project, near Wenatchee. This will be the largest dam in the world when completed.

Work on preparing a new and complete road-log pamphlet will be undertaken within a few weeks and an intensive campaign will be conducted through the various channels available to the Okanogan-Cariboo Trail Association. This organization now has a very complete hook-up of affiliations with other tourist associations throughout the Northwest and Pacific states. As a result of these affiliations, over 200,000 pamphlets, containing maps, have been issued recently showing the direct connection with other main routes of travel.

From last February until July, Mrs. Lois Robinson, representative of the Association, has been operating in California, where she gave addresses, illustrated by lantern slides, before 12,000 people at public gatherings and large audiences heard her over various radio stations. She also showed the slides before 400 bureau directors.

In the North-West, "Old Timer," Mr. Lawrence D. Kitchell, has been heard constantly over the radio, and datings for talks before service clubs have been so numerous that some have had to be turned down due to previous engagements.

Arrangements have been made whereby the new road-log pamphlets will be sent directly to those inquiring for them. Calls for them at present are being listed at the rate of from five to six hundred per week.

Mr. Lawrence Wood, of Penticton, who was with the Okanogan-Cariboo Trail Association as Field and Publicity Manager from 1925 to 1930, has been asked to resume his work in this connection.

BRITAIN, FRANCE AND ITALY TAKE COUNSEL

Powers Consider What Action Necessary In Case Of Austria

LONDON, July 26.—Britain, France and Italy have begun informal negotiations to determine what "sensible action" they must take to uphold their February pact pledging the independence of Austria. An authoritative British source stated today that the governments of the three great powers are convinced that no new action by them to defend Austrian independence is necessary at the present moment.

AUSTRIA NOW IN THROES OF CIVIL WAR

Nazis Battle Government Forces For Control Of Half A Dozen Cities In Styria

VIENNA, July 26.—Civil war broke out in Austria today as Nazis battled with government forces for control of half a dozen cities in the Province of Styria. The Nazis are reported to be marching in increasing numbers against the combined forces of the army and the Fascist Heimwehr or Home Guard. A communique by the Secretary of State for Public Security states: "In Vienna and the provinces, with the exception of Styria, order prevails. The revolt in certain sections of Styria has collapsed already, thanks to the energetic action of law enforcement agencies."

News that Italian troops were camped on the international border has caused alarm or reassurance, according to respective viewpoints.

A group of fanatical Nazis, variously estimated at from 144 to 300 in number, whose daring seizure of the Chancellor yesterday resulted in the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss, were held today under heavy guard in military barracks for trial on charges of treason by a military court.

An unverified report from Carinthia states that Yugo-Slavian soldiers fired across the Austrian border, causing a concentration of Austrian troops there. The leader of the Fascist Heimwehr, Prince Ernst Von Starheimberg, Vice-Chancellor, succeeded the dead Dollfuss today.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC HEAVY ON MAIN LINE RAILWAYS

Trains Are Being Operated In Several Sections

The Kamloops Sentinel reports that heavy passenger movement in both directions is taxing the resources of the two railway systems, and more engine and train crews are now employed than for some time past.

On the C.P.R. almost every passenger train is running in two, or sometimes more, sections. The night trains particularly are heavy.

Some of the trains on the C.N.R. are also running in two or more sections.

FORMER MINISTER OF FIRST UNITED IS DEAD

Rev. A. MacLurg Passed Away In Belfast, Ireland

Through a letter from Mrs. MacLurg received last week by Mrs. F. B. Wilkins, the belated news came to hand of the passing of Rev. A. MacLurg, in Belfast, Ireland, on February 3rd last. He had suffered for some time from pernicious anaemia and had been unable to continue his work after December, 1933. He was minister of First United Church, Kelowna, from 1923 to 1926, leaving to return to his old home in Ulster, and many members of his congregation and other friends will regret to learn of his death and will sympathize with Mrs. MacLurg in her bereavement.

Last Sunday morning the Rev. W. W. McPherson paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of Mr. MacLurg and his ministry in the United Church, after which the congregation joined in singing the well-known hymn, "For all the Saints, who from their labours rest."

ITALY WILL DEFEND AUSTRIAN INDEPENDENCE

Premier Gives Assurance To New Austrian Chancellor

ROME, July 26.—Premier Mussolini assured the new Austrian Chancellor, Prince Ernst Von Starheimberg, today that Italy will defend the independence of Austria "even more strenuously in these exceptional and difficult times."

Mussolini's message was sent as war time sentiments came to the fore in Italy, long opposed to the union of Germany and Austria. Troops north of Padua were ordered to march on short notice. Whether armed assistance is needed will be determined at a conference of diplomatic representatives in Vienna. Seventy-five thousand men are now camped within easy marching distance of the Austrian frontier.

PENDOZI ST. BRIDGE APPROACHES COMPLETION

Roadway Should Be Open For Service Next Week

The new reinforced concrete bridge over Mill Creek on Pendozo Street is nearing completion, and it is hoped to have the roadway open for service next week. The approaches to the side-walks will be finished later, as some filling in will be required at the ends.

The new structure will provide a roadway nearly thirty feet wide, with seven-foot sidewalks on either side. Its permanent type of construction should give it an indefinite life, and Ald. R. Whillis, chairman of Public Works, firmly believes that it would be true economy to replace all existing wooden bridges with concrete at the rate of one bridge per year. There are four more to deal with, those on Ethel and Richter Streets and Elliott and Sutherland Avenues. The Pendozo Street bridge will cost approximately $4,000.

Another very satisfactory piece of municipal work, recently completed, is that of a permanent roadway on Sutherland Avenue. This street has been a source of much trouble for years past owing to heaving in the spring. The gumbo, which has been the cause of heaving owing to its moisture content, has been dug out and replaced with crushed stone and a top dressing of cobblestones and a top dressing of crushed rock, providing a permanent surface which should give no trouble in future.

SITUATION IN EUROPE IS DELICATE

Great War Alignment Of Powers Is Approximated Save That Germany Essays Neutral Course

LONDON, July 26.—The peace of Europe hung in a delicate balance today as the powers lined up on either side of the fulcrum, Austria, where civil strife between Nazis and government troops has followed the assassination yesterday of Chancellor Dollfuss.

The alignment of the Great War is again approximated, with Italy, France, Britain and the Little Entente all reported as ready to take steps against any union between Austria and Germany. Germany is essaying a strictly neutral course, recalling her minister for unauthorized intervention at Vienna and closing her borders to political refugees from Austria. The shades of French opinion that have regarded Nazism as a war menace since Hitler came to power profess, nevertheless, to see the hand of Germany and "Der Fuehrer" behind the Austrian Nazi "putsch."

KELOWNA GIRL WINS TENNIS HONOURS

Miss J. Pease Captures Ladies' Open Singles And Doubles At Penticton Tournament

A contingent of players from Kelowna, including Mr. and Mrs. H. G. M. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stubbs, Miss J. Pease, Miss H. Brown, Miss M. Stubbs, Messrs. C. Dore and D. Stubbs, took part in the Southern Interior Lawn Tennis Tournament, held under the auspices of the Penticton Lawn Tennis Club last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The entry was considerably larger than usual, Vancouver, Princeton, Summerland, Vernon and Oliver also being represented, in addition to local players.

Unfortunately, the weather turned wet on Thursday evening and the rain continued on Friday morning, rendering it necessary to suspend play for half the day. However, by cutting out the handicap events, it was found possible to complete all the open events by a late hour on Saturday evening.

Miss J. Pease took the honours in two events, winning the Ladies' Open Singles and, together with Miss K. Fitzmaurice, of Vernon, the Ladies' Open Doubles. D. Campbell, of Penticton, won the Men's Open Singles, and Cockcroft and Seed, of Vancouver, captured the Men's Open Doubles. The Open Mixed Doubles went to D. Campbell and Mrs. Kennedy, of Penticton.

Mr. Gardner acted in the capacity of Official Referee.

WITNESS TELLS HOW DOLLFUSS MET DEATH

Last Rites Of Church Refused To Dying Chancellor By Men Who Slew Him

VIENNA, July 26.—A police official, one of those held captive by the Nazis yesterday, told today a first-hand story of how Chancellor Dollfuss died.

The Chancellor, hearing the shouts of the raiders throughout the building, left his office intending to enter the archives building next door. Suddenly ten Nazis burst into the hall and, recognizing him, rushed at him. Two of them fired point blank, the bullets hitting him in the head. The wounded man begged that a priest be sent for in order to administer the last rites of the church to him, but the request was ignored. Emil Fey, commander of Dollfuss' army, was brought to him by Nazis, and the dying Chancellor asked that Fey see that his family was taken care of and urged that the troubles of Austria be settled without further bloodshed. Fey was taken away by his captors and when he next saw Dollfuss he was dead.

Today, at the dead Chancellor's summer home, his wife collapsed when informed of the slaying.

Von Rintelen, Austrian ambassador to Rome, whom the rebellious Nazis had declared as the new Chancellor at the height of the rebellion yesterday, died in his jail cell today. An official announcement stated that he had killed himself with a revolver he had concealed.

SOME SHIPPERS ARE CUTTING PRICES

New Organization May Succeed Okanagan Stabilization Board

Owing to price-cutting amongst shippers, the Okanagan Stabilization Board may quickly pass from the 1934 marketing picture, states the Vernon News, which goes on to say:

"Shippers decided some time since that the comparatively small sum in the treasury when Crestland legal action costs are defrayed would do more good if used to assist in maintaining market values on the 1934 crop than it would to attempt to return exceedingly small sums to individual growers. They authorized the Manager, Major McGuire, whose engagement had not expired, to gather ideas on values and distribute them to members."

"Sad to relate, freed from the restraining hand of authority, some shippers apparently used the ideas on values imparted to them to shoot under. It is the same old and filthy story."

"It is difficult to learn what is to be done about it, but it is believed that a proposal is advanced to form some sort of licensees' association because there will be need for one under the marketing legislation, but in the interim the shippers who are really interested in maintaining values can work in harmony, and those whose only possibility of making sales is through shooting under current quotations will not have access to the information they require."

"Something may be attempted. Nothing may come of it."

OKANAGAN MISSION RIDING CLUB GYMKHANA

Display Of Horsemanship Pleases Interested Spectators

The gymkhana held by the Okanagan Mission Riding Club on Thursday at the Boyce lakeshore property, by kind permission of Dr. B. F. Boyce, provided a very interesting and well carried out programme, which was enjoyed by a number of spectators. Tea was served on the grounds.

Fifteen members of the Club, all riding English saddles, took part, and they showed good horsemanship. Their junior member, Patricia Acland, made an excellent showing, winning in three of the six events.

The results of the competitions were as follows:

Bending race, for senior and junior members: 1, J. Treadgold and Philip Russell.

In an inspired peroration, Mr. Skinner said that this was no "namby-pamby" movement, but that it called for strong men and women and boys and girls to fight the evil of the world, and that this strength could only be obtained by a complete forgetting of self and by allowing the Holy Spirit to work in and through each one.

BOYSCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop

Troop First! Sell Last!

Edited by S.M.

THE CAMP (By N. P.)

Kelowna and East Kelowna joined forces this year on a camp at Mission Creek beside the new intake above Gallagher's Canyon. This proved a difficult spot to reach but ideal from every other point of view, with a large clear area for games, a creek for swimming and no motor roads within two miles.

Twelve members of the Kelowna Troop left the Scout Hall on Saturday, July 7th at 3 p.m., Mr. C. G. Renfrew kindly solving a knotty transport problem. After an interesting drive along the logging road above Hydraulic Creek, the end of the trail was reached in safety. The business of moving half a ton of luggage down a thousand feet of bank was well under way when eleven East Kelowna Scouts joined us at 6.30. There was no time to find permanent sites, so the tents were erected in the open and everything was made shipshape for the night.

Lights out at 9.30 p.m. Sleep seemed to last from about 1.00 a.m. until 2.00 a.m., when the wind nearly blew the bedding out of the tents, and it became obvious that the tents would have to be moved to a less draughty site.

Sunday morning of necessity was one of toil. Tent sites had to be cleared, tents moved, grounds cleaned up, a grub tent erected and fireplaces built. The Loons found a particularly fine site hidden a few yards back in the trees which was the envy of the whole camp.

The camp was run as one Troop, with each patrol doing its own cooking. The East Kelowna patrols were the Hawks and Loons and the Kelowna patrols the Owls and Otters.

Two severe epidemics broke out in camp. One was fisherman's fever, which was easily adjusted; the other was wasp sting, which was not. Mission Creek seems to go in for wasps in a big way. One nest under a stump guarded a particularly fine tent site, and somebody carrying freight on Sunday evening had something to say about a nest on the trail. Nearly every expedition from camp recorded a few more.

Sunday afternoon was one of rest except for a rock-throwing contest which built a dam across the creek to deepen the swimming pool. It was at the height of this that Mr. Laidlaw arrived to spend his only night in camp with us.

On Monday morning camp routine started with reveille at 6.30; washing parade, 6.45; flag raising, 7.00; first meal call, 7.45; breakfast, 8.00; inspection, 9.30; instruction, games, swimming and free time until lunch at 12.00; rest hour, 1.00 to 2.00 p.m.; instruction, games, swimming, cleaning up camp sites and free time again, 2.00 to 6.00; supper, 6.00; games, 7.30; camp fire, 8.30; "Last Post," 9.30; lights out, 9.45. (To be continued.)

TORTURED IN SOUTHERN FEUD

Miss Effie Jackson, of Marshall, Arkansas, claims that she was ducked in a bath of water and had fire applied to her feet by one faction in a family feud, which has taken the lives of four persons so far.

GLENMORE

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Penticton, and Mr. Melstead, of Salmon Arm, Oxford Group workers, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hicks.

Mrs. J. C. Clarke and her two sons are spending a few weeks at Petrie's Corner.

Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Hume are spending the week at Naramata.

Miss Margaret McGilvery, of Montreal, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. A. H. London.

Mr. Jas. Marshall, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Snowsell, returned last week to his home in Sedgewick, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Coatsworth and family arrived by car from Calgary on Friday. They have taken up residence in Glenmore on the place next to Mr. Isaac Kerr.

The softball team lost to Toc H on Tuesday in a very interesting game. Although at one time the boys were five runs ahead, the final score was 10-9 in favour of Toc H. This is the last game of the season and gives Toc H the cup.

WINFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gay and daughter, Doris, arrived here from Seattle on Sunday last, and spent several days visiting at the home of Mrs. Gay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Edmunds.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Veness and little daughter spent the week-end at Falkland.

Mrs. R. P. White and little girls returned home Sunday, after spending the week at Lavington.

Mrs. V. R. McDonagh and children and Miss Kathleen Berry and two brothers are spending the week at Beaver Lake.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do A Good Turn Daily"

The annual summer camp is now in progress at Okanagan Centre, near Mr. H. B. Kennard's place, the "Hermitage." Twelve Scouts and the Scoutmaster went into camp Saturday morning, July 21st. On Monday, A. S. M. Peter Ritchie joined us, but the Scoutmaster had to leave and Mr. A. N. Humphreys took over the camp. On Tuesday the strength of the Troop was increased by the arrival of five Wolf Cubs who were transferring from the Pack on passing the age of twelve years. Two more Scouts also came into camp to bring the total strength up to 19, not counting leaders. Leo Graf has been appointed Acting Troop-Leader and Quartermaster for the period of the camp.

The patrol competition is going along briskly, all patrols being lunched and the points between first and last being at times less than 20.

A full report of the camp activities will appear in next week's notes.

SUN BATHING

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

Warning against the dangers of over indulgence in regard to sun bathing and people trying to "get a tan" during the summer, is embodied in the monthly report of Dr. G. P. Jackson, M.O.H.

The report urges greater exposure to the sun during the summer but warns against attempts to acquire a tan too rapidly and points out that some skins, especially those of children and infants, "simply will not tan."

Other measures advised include a greater degree of outdoor existence, use of lightweight, loose and lightly coloured clothing, including footwear; wearing of light, absorbent and frequently changed underwear; featuring in the diet of vegetable greens, fruits, lean meat and eggs in moderate amounts, butter in moderation, other dairy products, whole grain products, milk, other beverages, and certain foods of low caloric value.

In seeking recreation, Dr. Jackson urges, it is well for the mental worker to rest his brain while he exercises the physical part of his body and vice versa for the physical worker.

CANADIAN HONEY POPULAR IN BRITAIN

Great Britain's chief source of supply of honey is Canada, followed by the British West Indies and Chile. Canadian honey has made steady progress in the British market during the past five years because of its quality, also owing to the improvement which has been effected in blending and grading.

The south of England has the greatest consumption of honey and demands a liquidified or "clear" type, the same as does Northern Ireland. In Scotland the preference is for solidified or "set" honey. The demand in Scotland is primarily for the finer grades. Elsewhere confectioners buy the cheaper grades in bulk.

BOY GOES TO JAIL TO SAVE DOG

The mother dog in the picture is Lady, five-year-old police dog, alive today because her young master, Harry Curtis, of Toronto, is doing ten days in jail. The girl is Harry's 17-year-old sister, Ethel, who is holding Lady's family. Lady, a birthday gift to young Curtis, was alleged to have nipped some one, and, unable to pay the $50 imposed in the Juvenile Court, the lad elected to serve the alternative sentence of ten days in order to save the life of his pet. The family claim that the boy said to have been nipped by Lady had annoyed her continually, and that she had never attacked any one before.

B. C. LEADS IN RASPBERRY CULTURE

Easily The Most Important Of Bush Fruits

The raspberry is easily the most important bush fruit grown in Canada. Among the small fruits it ranks second to the strawberry and, apart from raspberries grown in city lots and back gardens, the acreage of commercial plantations is estimated about 2,500.

In raspberry culture British Columbia is the leading province, with Ontario second. Nova Scotia is not credited with any commercial production and neither are the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta or Saskatchewan. In spite of this, however, the raspberry is cultivated in every province of the Dominion to a profitable extent, and is found growing wild in one form or another from coast to coast and as far north as the delta of the Mackenzie River. With such a wide distribution, says the Dominion Horticulturist, it is small wonder the raspberry has become such an important and highly prized fruit. Its commercial production is bound to increase and there would seem to be no good reason why those provinces which are not now recorded as producing commercial quantities should not be able profitably to increase their plantings in the very near future.

WEEK OF DOUBLE BILLS AT EMPRESS

Two Features Every Night Until Thursday Next

The week at the Empress Theatre from Saturday, July 28th, until Thursday, August 2nd, is literally a feast for theatre goers, as there will be a double bill each night.

Saturday only, Randolph Scott and Judith Allen will be seen in a Wild West tale of thrills and excitement, also Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland, George Burns and Gracie Allen in an amusing comedy, "Six of a Kind."

Monday and Tuesday brings to the screen "Mandalay," as thrilling a story of romance and wild adventure among the soldiers of fortune, gun runners and resort keepers of the far East as one could wish to see, featuring Kay Francis as a woman who swore to live her future so madly she'd forget the madness of her past, supported by Ricardo Cortez, Lyle Talbot and a capable cast. The second feature, "I've Got Your Number," presents an entertaining revelation of the romance and thrills that underlie the gigantic telephone system that honeycombs the world with its network of wires. Joan Blondell, Pat O'Brien, and a clever quartette of comedians furnish much of the hilarious comedy with which the film is studded.

Another comedy, "Convention City," will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, August 1st and 2nd, with "Dark Hazard," a drama featuring Edward G. Robinson and Glenda Farrell. "Convention City" sets a fast and furious pace, the plot of the story is unique and novel, centering about the riotous happenings of a travelling salesman's convention. Leading salesmen are represented by Adolphe Menjou, Dick Powell, Guy Kibbee and Frank McHugh, assisted by Joan Blondell, Mary Astor, Patricia Ellis and many others.

APPLE PRODUCTION SATURATION POINT

Canadian Crop Of 1933 One Of Largest On Record

Canadian commercial apple production in 1933 was one of the largest on record, due mainly to a record crop in Nova Scotia. The average annual increase of recent years in Quebec was maintained, while Ontario also produced a somewhat larger crop than the previous season. In British Columbia, however, production fell short of the record yield of 1932. This record Canadian crop of 1933, and the realization that production in the near future will equal if not exceed the 1933 figure, illustrates quite clearly, says a Dominion Fruit Branch report, that the saturation point of profitable marketing on both domestic and export markets has been reached, or at least approximated, assuming, of course, that competitors of Canada on export markets will at least maintain present production and export levels. Production during the coming season in Ontario, and possibly other parts of Eastern Canada, may be limited to a greater or lesser degree by frost damage, but nevertheless each producing province is faced with a definite problem involving production and distribution in future years.

"ALL-BRAN WILL ALWAYS BE A PART OF MY DIET"

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Constipation

If you suffer from constipation, read this fine letter:

"I have been troubled for years with constipation. During this time, I have tried almost every known remedy. Then some one recommended eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and the proper results followed immediately."

"Since eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN each morning, there has been a general improvement in my health without the ill effects that I formerly experienced when taking laxatives. Hereafter, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will always be a part of my diet."—Mr. E. G. Himes (address furnished upon request)

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this "cereal way" safer than risking patent medicines?

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient to relieve ordinary constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Be sure to ask for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

THE EUROPEAN RED MITE
By E. P. Venables, Dominion Entomological Branch, Vernon
*****

[Correspondence relating to this article should be addressed to the writer.]

Many orchardists are familiar with this mite, which is today widely distributed throughout the Okanagan Valley.

Its injuries are sometimes quite serious on both apple and stone fruits, and where numerous the mites cause a yellowing of the leaves early summer which later on turn a dull brown, the leaves appearing as though coated with dust on the upper surface.

Mite injury advances in a somewhat insidious manner, and trees may be seriously affected without attracting the particular attention of those unfamiliar with the pest.

The eggs of the European red mite are of a dull red colour, are laid upon the leaves during the summer, and may be found upon both the upper and lower surfaces, but are generally most numerous near the leaf margins. The winter is passed in the egg stage. The overwintering eggs occur at the base of spurs and shoots and upon the twigs, and where numerous give the bark a decidedly reddish tinge.

There are several generations of the mite each season, so that, where only comparatively few winter eggs are present, the mite may become extremely numerous by midsummer. The control of the European red mite during the summer may be affected by the application of lime-sulphur sprays as used for scab control, at a dilution of 1-40. It is interesting to note that, owing to the universal use of this material in the north end of the valley, the mite is seldom of importance on apple trees, whereas in the southern Okanagan the injury to apples is often severe. In this district lime-sulphur sprays are not used extensively, and where they are applied are generally used at very weak dilution for the control of powdery mildew.

A dormant spray of oil at a four per cent dilution will be effective in destroying the overwintering eggs; lime-sulphur in the dormant state is not effective. Where one does not wish to apply lime-sulphur during midsummer, the application of a one per cent oil emulsion will give good results. Such oil sprays are effective against the eggs of the mite, and also the mites themselves, whereas lime-sulphur at summer strength does not destroy the eggs but is toxic to the newly hatched mites.

Thoroughness of application is of great importance in red mite control. The addition of nicotine to summer oil may be advantageous, but is not necessary if the oil spray is well applied.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IN OPPOSITION TO BEER BY THE GLASS

Kelowna, July 25th, 1934.

To the Editor,
Kelowna Courier,
Dear Sir,

It is now known that a petition is being taken around in the city to secure signatures with a view to having a plebiscite on "beer by the glass." It is very necessary that our citizens should know the nature of the petition. The beer advocates must secure a petition signed by thirty-five per cent of the electors, duly witnessed and properly signed. If they secure the required number to sign the petition, it will be presented to the Attorney-General and he may grant a plebiscite.

In the event of a plebiscite, if fifty-five per cent of the voters are favourable to beer, a proclamation will be made and applications will be received by the Liquor Control Board for a licence to sell beer by the glass or bottle in licensed premises.

It is well to consider what the petition aims at and what is involved. A plebiscite means added expense to the country which is already overburdened with financial obligations. Why should the community go to such an expense, especially in these hard times, and why should the social harmony of the people be disturbed by introducing this very controversial question? As we see it, the issue is not mainly one of drinking or otherwise, because we already have a liquor store and men may get drunk if they want it. It is a question of a departure from Government sale to PRIVATE SALE for PRIVATE PROFITS. It is a question of private interests exploiting the weakness of men. It resolves itself into a brewery proposition.

Those of us who are opposed to such a proposition may, if the petition is secured, demand to have it scrutinized. We hope that those who are solicited for their signatures will give careful consideration to what the petition may involve and mean, before readily consenting to help saddling upon our community something that will not be easy to get rid of.

Sincerely yours,
W. W. McPHERSON.

FARMERS' VOLUNTARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Kelowna, B. C.
July 24th, 1934.

To the Editor,
Kelowna Courier,
Dear Mr. Editor,

Would you grant me sufficient space to explain what is taking place in the Valley?

An idea has been thought of, and because several people have thought it a good one, a committee has been formed to investigate its possibilities. The committee is composed of business men, and it will make its reports through the press.

The idea is for a farmers' voluntary medical association for the Okanagan and Kootenays, whereby every man, woman and child can receive medical treatment for a few cents a month, payable through the packing house or agent through which their produce goes.

If this proves successful, the same idea could be extended to all people living in the Okanagan and Kootenay Valleys.

Thanking you, I am
Yours sincerely,
ROGER F. BORRETT

NEW LIBERAL CABINET OF ONTARIO IN SESSION

Three weeks of guessing and conjecture about the personnel of the new Liberal cabinet of Ontario came to an end on July 11th, when Hon. Mitchell Hepburn, the new Premier, took over the reins of office and named his lieutenants. Shortly before noon of that day the first meeting of the cabinet was held, and they are shown above seated as follows around the executive table, from left to right: Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines; Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways; Hon. Arthur Robbuck, Attorney General and Minister of Northern Development; Hon. Mitchell F. Hepburn, President of the Cabinet Council and Provincial Treasurer; Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education; Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health; Hon. David Croll, Minister of Public Welfare and Municipal Affairs.

PEACHLAND

With Peachland winning out on both protests at the meeting of the League officials at Penticton on Sunday, the game which they protested with Kelowna is to be played soon. This game re-plays the eleven inning game held at Kelowna early in the season, when a ball which was caught was held momentarily and dropped when the player crashed into the railing, with the decision given by the umpire that this play was a catch. This decision lost Peachland their chance to score and Kelowna got a run in the last half of the eleventh, giving them the game. Umpire Whatman's decision was not upheld by the League officials, which means a re-play.

Summerland protested the game of July 8th at Summerland, when the ball hit the back of the head of the runner making the run, which tied the score, causing it to bounce behind the plate. Summerland charged interference, which was not sustained.

The game with Kelowna will be hard-fought, as upon it will hinge the placing of the third place team in the League.

A most interesting evening was arranged by the V. O. N. Board and Miss Hill Saturday evening, when a Treasure Hunt sent various games of the younger generation on a search for buried treasure which was eventually found not far away. With "weiners" and buns served around a blazing camp fire, an enjoyable time was spent by all those who attended, and a nice sum was added to the V. O. N. funds.

The Westbank nine came down once again to give the local team a game on Thursday, and, with lots of fun on both sides, went home the losers, 12 to 5.

With the Pirates playing the boys at softball on Wednesday evening, a tremendous score was tallied up, with the girls slightly behind. This is the first time the girls have made such a good showing against the tough juniors, and the return game may turn the tables on the boys.

After several week's delay because of the illness of Mrs. Scott, the Rev. D. Scott and his family left last Tuesday for their new home at Capitol Hill, Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller have as their guests Mrs. Willis and children, of Vancouver.

The Westbank dance held on Friday evening, was attended by a number of the younger members of Peachland.

The machinery and smoke-stack from the cannery building have been disposed of to a Vernon firm, so it is reported, and the taking down of the large smoke-stack was watched with keen interest last Wednesday.

Miss Shiela McKay is spending a holiday in Westbank as the guest of Miss Elizabeth Wolfe.

Teachers' Holidays

Cowichan Leader: Most people feel that their own particular job is just a little harder or more exacting than that of any one else. The B. C. Teacher, official organ of the teachers' federation, comments as follows on the need for holidays:

There are many who envy the teachers on account of their so-called long holiday, but if all such could appreciate at its proper value the tremendous strain involved in a teaching year, particularly with the intensive work which is necessary in the closing months, they would soon understand how essential it is that teachers as well as students should have the necessary period in which to build up the required mental and physical energy with which to face the new year.

Teachers cannot be expected to be superhuman beings. They cannot stand in front of their classes day after day and radiate that spirit of enthusiasm and vitality which rouses the students to their best endeavours unless they have a period to rebuild and renew their own energies and enthusiasms by the many avenues and agencies available during the summer months.

C. P. R. OFFERS ANOTHER BARGAIN TRIP TO BANFF

Tickets Permit Of Three Full Days At Mountain Resort

Another popular bargain trip to Banff in the form of a coach excursion will be operated from British Columbia points by the Canadian Pacific Railway on Friday, August 3rd.

Tickets will be honoured out of Vancouver and New Westminster on Train No. 2 only, leaving Vancouver at 9:30 p.m., Friday August 3rd, and will be good for departure from Banff up to and including the 1:35 a.m. train on Wednesday, August 8th.

The territory from the Coast to Revelstoke, on the main line, and as far south as Penticton in the Okanagan, is eligible for this travel bargain. Tickets sold in the Okanagan Valley on August 3rd will be honoured from Sicamous on Trains 2 and 4, Saturday, August 4th.

For the three full days at Banff which the excursion allows, the Banff Springs Hotel is offering an added inducement in the form of a special all-inclusive rate for room and meals.

IMPORTATION OF NURSERY STOCK INTO B. C.

Slight changes have been made in the revised regulation governing the importation of nursery stock into Canada. Previously the regulation stipulated that all consignments of nursery stock for British Columbia must be routed via Vancouver, in accordance with the requirements of the regulations of that province. The revised regulation provides that consignments for British Columbia may now enter Canada through any one of the established ports of importation in the Dominion, and, on the authority of the district inspector in charge at the port of importation, may proceed direct to destination in British Columbia, rather than to Vancouver in all cases as formerly.

ELLISON

The annual school meeting was held on Wednesday evening, July 18th, and the same trustees, Messrs. Scott, Heron and Bertucci, will continue in office for the ensuing year.

This change from the usual Saturday evening meeting rather takes from the tired farmers their excuse for not attending to their own affairs, that of pressure of other business. However, the turnout scarcely justified the change, and we must conclude that the work of the Trustees must be highly satisfactory if not openly appreciated.

Mr. John Baron returned from the Coast Wednesday, and will be followed by Mrs. Baron and Audrey at a later date, travelling by car.

In olden days it was customary for the ancient sinners to do penance by donning hair shirts, but what finer torture could be devised than to have one's clothing well interspersed with the ubiquitous spear-grass, with a sprinkling of common burr and the odd thistle thrown in for fair measure? Many farmers throughout this valley are now doing penance for past neglect in this matter, and the crop of potential hair-shirts adorning the base of local fence lines will no doubt find many future penitents.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HUNTING IN RED

"Dendron,"
Wilson's Landing, B.C.,
24th July, 1934.

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
I do not know whether you can find space in The Courier for this letter, but I feel that the subject is momentous, particularly for those who reside outside towns.

I understand that a resolution has been submitted to the Game Department with a view to compelling all hunters to wear red shirts, and I feel strongly that any such measure would be very ill advised.

In practice it means that the grossly careless hunter will fire at anything which is not red, while the moderately careful one will become moderately careless, and the yearly toll of killings of men, horses and cattle (not to mention dogs) will be greater than ever.

The resolution evidently assumes that during the hunting season no one but hunters will be on the range, but what about the outlying ranchers, loggers, prospectors (who abound at the moment), hikers, in short all those who live or work outside a township? Are they to be compelled to wear red clothing or, if not, what will be their chances of surviving a hunting season?

Wearing red is no cure for reckless shooting; in fact it invites it.

The remedies are in education of youthful shots and in Coroners, who are now too apt to find "Accidentally Shot" when the verdict should be "Culpable Homicide," followed by a term of imprisonment.

Shooting fatalities are never accidents (except in the very rare case of a deflected ricochet). They are due to carelessness or criminal recklessness 999 times out of a thousand.

Yours faithfully,
HAROLD AGAR.

WESTBANK

Miss Bessie Conroy, of Vernon, is spending the vacation with Miss Audrey Gellatly on their lovely lake side ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parker left for a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Kline, at Nelson, on Tuesday, by car.

A dance was held in the Community Hall on Friday night by the Community Club. About sixty turned up and had a jolly dance. The Summerland orchestra supplied good music and the Amusement Committee served a good supper.

Mr. J. U. Gellatly, accompanied by his son Allan, motored to Vancouver on Saturday.

A meeting of the taxpayers was held in the school house on Wednesday night to discuss the accommodation needed for the third teacher and pupils. It was decided to put a division through the centre of the lower room, which is a fine light and large room, to serve temporarily, while immediate plans are to be made to build a third room on the School House.

BULLETS FLY IN EUROPE

Last night a German professor, with a very Teutonic accent, attempted in an address by radio to explain away the "rubbing out" of seventy-seven of his erstwhile friends and supporters by Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany. The motives of high and lofty patriotism that he attributed to the Chancellor, who is not a German at all but an Austrian by birth, did not appear at all convincing to the sceptical editor, but seemed rather the desperate apology of a clever man, striving to defend that which he really knows to be indefensible—the taking of life for political purposes.

The Central and South American republics have been torn by civil strife ever since they achieved their independence from Spain, and people of the Nordic race have come to regard it as a peculiar weakness of the Latin peoples that when they disagree upon political matters they must go gunning for their opponents. It causes a heavy shock to the complacency of those of Anglo-Saxon stock when they see the staid and usually sensible German people indulging in wholesale internecine slaughter, an example followed only yesterday in Austria, when the ruthless suppression of the Socialist revolt in Vienna a few months ago was avenged by the killing of Chancellor Dollfuss.

Has it come about that the attitude of the northern European has changed towards violence as a means of achieving political ends, that the practice of South America is to be copied and the bullet employed instead of the ballot?

It is difficult to realize that the citizens of any civilized country can forget the innumerable ties of a common language, of racial tradition, of thousands of years of a national history, and even of kindred blood, and can turn upon each other and slay ferociously because of differences of opinion as to the best form of government.

Viscount Snowden viciously attacks Ramsay MacDonald on every possible occasion as a traitor to the Labour cause, but it is an impossible conception that he would advocate his "rubbing out."

Will British psychology ever reconcile itself to the use of violence as a means of securing radical changes in forms of government? The answer a few years ago would have been an unhesitating no, but events that are taking place in civilized countries today are such as to shake faith in the unwavering adherence of the British peoples to constitutional methods. Strange new doctrines are being preached by people who deprecate the employment of force, yet they have followers who seek to qualify negations of violence by an "if possible" placed before protestations of the use of peaceful means only.

Violence seems contagious and there is no saying where the display of murderous passion in Europe may lead—certainly it is not in the direction of peace.

"His book is said to be rather deep," "Can't be very deep. My daughter told me she managed to wade through it."

ORCHARD RUN

By R. M. R.

Mr. Hearst's Giraffes

William Randolph Hearst, the American newspaper publisher, transacts most of his business, personal and otherwise, by telegraph, having extensive wire facilities on his San Simeon, California, estate, says The New Yorker. On a good evening, he'll send out a hundred and fifty or two hundred messages.

A lot of these come into the office of the Los Angeles Examiner, via the teletype, and one of the pastimes of the Examiner editorial staff is to read the messages as they are spelled out by the mechanical keys. On a dull night, there's always a little group idling around the machines, seeing what the boss is up to.

Mr. Hearst also has two giraffes on his estate. He had two others previously but they died, and the new ones weren't doing so well a few weeks back. One night over the teletype came a message, "Get me conscientious reliable man to care for giraffes. Salary fifty dollars a week."

This created quite a furore in the Los Angeles Examiner office. By midnight, twenty-seven members of the staff had applied for the job!

All of which goes to show, I might add, that newspaper people will do anything. So take warning.

Random Shots

Fannie Hurst, the novelist, has broke out in print in Liberty in an alleged confession, most of which centres round the statement that it's always "sex" o'clock. Fannie lets it be known there have been men in her life, that they are a necessary evil, that she really doesn't like them—that, next to women, they are the best people in the world—but where is there anything remarkable about that?

A lot of women have minds that run in the same channel, but their opinions are not "copy" because they can't express them in Fannie's staccato style. Miss Hurst, you know is a master craftsman in the use of punctuation, and a period is her favourite mark. In her work, we find one-word sentences in nearly every paragraph. Like this: "It is correct. Proper. Appropriate. Expressive."

Apart from the mechanics of writing, however, Miss Hurst has told a few homely truths in her latest article. She has very interestingly set mere man upon a pedestal and knocked him down, set him up again and knocked him down. And with every repetition of the performance she never lets you lose sight of the general idea that "it's always sex o'clock."

True, Fannie. But how come you have just found it out?

Marrying The Siamese Twins

We carried an interesting picture last week. It showed a set of the perennial "Siamese" twins, one of whom was in the arms of her ardent lover while the other faced the camera with a smile.

The presence of the lover—presumably the lover of only one of the twins—complicates the situation, presents a new angle of the eternal triangle. If he is allowed to marry one twin does he, in the eyes of the law, marry only one or is he the husband of both? There's a teaser.

There is cruelty in denying love to these two girls simply because they are joined together inseparably. There is also cruelty in allowing one the privilege of marriage and denying the other. So, it seems, to straighten things out satisfactorily, a boy friend should be found for the other one. Then they could all march to the altar together. No matter how you look at it, when one man marries twins, together or apart, he is a bigamist. And the law looks snootily upon bigamy.

(P.S.—In the days of Brigham Young, the girls would have had no problem down in Salt Lake City!)

Sink Or Swim

Ken Shepherd, energetic Secretary-Manager of the Aquatic Association, has been trying hard to get life-saving apparatus for the City Park. When the recommendation of the jury that heard the evidence at the inquest following a recent drowning fatality failed to have any effect, and when an editorial in the Advertiser was equally unsuccessful, Ken wrote to the City Fathers and asked them what they were going to do about it. The result is that Ald. Foster is now "enquiring," but what he has to enquire into has been public knowledge for some little time.

It is public knowledge that there was no life-belt at the old ferry wharf when Rochus Welter was drowned recently and that, at time of writing,

DROUGHT CONDITIONS IN SOUTH-WEST U.S.

Vivid Pen Picture Of Desperate Situation Confronting Farmers

Some one has sent The Courier an odd copy of the Colorado Springs Gazette, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, in which no item is marked, but under the arresting title of "Death Hovers Over Mankind In Southwest" appears a lurid pen picture of the conditions created in the southwestern states by intense heat and prolonged drought, which is worth reproduction for perusal by our readers, as subjoined. Its details should cause all Kelownians to give thanks for the blessings that surround them in a beneficent climate free of extremes.

KANSAS CITY, July 18 (AP).—General drought in the great southwest is paralyzing industry, creating want, destroying property and bringing untold suffering. And mankind is almost helpless in its hands. Nature seems to have walked out on mankind. Vegetation refuses to grow. Streams have stopped running. Springs, never before failing in the memory of early settlers, are dry. Trees, with leaves blighted, shrivelled and falling with every gust of furnace-like air, produce little or no shade.

Fertile Lands Ruined

Cattle, starved for proper nourishment, refuse to put on flesh or visibly languish. Clouds will not form in the skies or, if they form, refuse to disgorge any moisture. Soil, turned to dust, drifts over once-fertile grazing lands, unrestrained by grass roots that are brittle and crumbling.

Only the sun refused to strike and he works overtime, producing almost unbelievable heat. Some idea of it may be gained from today's announcement of the Topeka, Kan., weather observer, who said that only twice in 27 days has the temperature failed to reach 98 degrees, only four times has it fallen below 70 degrees at night.

And if you consider the last week alone, the average daily maximum temperature has been 107 degrees. Temperature maximums, in scattered communities have been 114 degrees often. Sometimes as high as 117 degrees.

The produce truck has been replaced on the highways by the water wagon. There is little produce to ship, but farmers are trying feverishly to keep stock alive. And many are failing.

Rush Stock to Market

The Kansas City livestock market has had the greatest cattle run in its history—animals rushed to the butcher because they cannot be kept alive on the pastures. There were reports in Oklahoma City today that 600 head of western Oklahoma cattle had been shot, humanely, after a futile search for water.

Hundreds of others were to be destroyed. Thousands were being moved sluggishly across burning plains, gasping for breath, in search of greener pastures. Hundreds of carloads were moving eastward by rail, Wichita railroad officials reported.

And there were new terrors. Twenty-five dairy cows of the herd of H. S. Funk, Less Summit, Mo., were dead an hour after they were turned into a fresh pasture, drought-retarded, had developed potassium cyanide. Warnings went out from farm agents.

Grasshoppers and bugs innumerable were an added scourge. There is still no life-belt there. It is public knowledge that the lungmoter at the Fire Hall might have been an effective instrument for resuscitation in its youth but age has treated it unkindly.

The boys at the Aquatic are doing great work in teaching children to swim. Still, that is no reason why those who can't swim should be allowed to drown when precaution can be taken to prevent it.

POWDERY MILDEW OF ROSES

By G. E. Woolfiam, Dominion
Laboratory of Plant Pathology,
Summerland.

(Correspondence relating to this article should be addressed to the writer.)

In the Interior of British Columbia powdery mildew is the most prevalent disease of roses and is often quite troublesome to flower gardeners.

Rose mildew is caused by a fungus that attacks the foliage and young shoots of the plant, and is readily recognized by the powdery, white growth of the fungus on the surface of these parts. On the leaves the white growth may cover the whole surface or it may be restricted to one or more scattered patches. Affected leaves often become curled and twisted and frequently develop a yellow, sickly colour. Badly affected leaves are likely to fall early in the season. Young twigs showing mildew usually do not ripen normally in late summer but continue growth until late in the season and are then easily killed in the winter.

A very fine sulphur dust is used mostly to control rose mildew. This should be applied evenly over the surface of the plants with a hand duster. If a duster is not available, the sulphur can be applied quite well by placing it in a square of cheesecloth, gathering up the corners to form a bag and then beating this with a stick over the bush. If the sulphur is put on while the foliage is moist with dew or rain, or after sprinkling, it will adhere better and give greater control. Enough sulphur to give a light, even coating of dust is sufficient.

If it is inconvenient to use sulphur dust, a spray made up with potassium sulphide (liver of sulphur) may be used. It is prepared by dissolving three or four ounces of the chemical in eight gallons of water. It must be used as soon as it is prepared as it loses strength on standing. This is a stainless spray and will not spoil the appearance of the foliage.

After the disease has appeared the dust or spray should be applied two or three times at intervals of about ten days, and as necessary after that time.

APPLE EXPORTS CONTROL ESSENTIAL IN FUTURE

Combination Of Abnormal Circumstances Last Season

Control of apple exports and the shipment in season of desired non-competitive varieties only, well above minimum grade requirements, will be the factors of paramount importance for the future. The 1933-34 Canadian apple export season was unique in many respects, says a report of the Dominion Fruit Branch, an accumulation of circumstances; some of which were beyond control, resulting in an unsatisfactory condition of United Kingdom markets throughout the greater part of the season.

Imports into the United Kingdom begin with the Australian crop which normally extends from April to July inclusive, but, owing to a heavy production last season, some 6,000,000 boxes were shipped, a large proportion remaining in storage for sale during August. The English crop matured

NON-IRRIGATED AREAS SUFFER DRYING WINDS

The movement of these fruits is not very brisk. Transcendent crabs are approaching maturity and should be moving shortly, as are also a few of the early peaches.

In the soft fruits, raspberry harvesting is about finished, and blackberries will be on the local market during the coming week.

Vegetable crops are developing rapidly, with a plentiful supply of all kinds in sight, and the movement at present is not very brisk. The harvesting of semi-ripe tomatoes is rapidly building up to a peak. This is considerably earlier than has occurred in past seasons. The canning of beets is completed by the local plant and beans are now going to the factory in quantity. The run on canning tomatoes will undoubtedly commence much earlier than usual. Early sweet corn is just beginning to make its appearance.

Both orchard and garden pests are very numerous this season and are causing considerable worry to producers. Moths of the second brood codling moth are now showing up and spraying for the control of this pest will commence at an early date.

Harvesting of all grains is in full swing, as is the second cutting of alfalfa. On the drier soils the second crop of this hay is going to be on the light side. An abatement of persistent winds and a good forty-eight hour rain would be a tremendous benefit to the whole country.

Westbank, Peachland, Summerland, Naramata, July 18

Weather conditions during the past two weeks have been dull with very cool nights. For several days the wind was severe in exposed places, which blew off some apples and pears. This cool weather has retarded the ripening of tomatoes and cantaloupes.

Although there has been no rain for over three weeks, irrigation is holding well, and orchard soil moisture is fairly well maintained.

Apples and pears are sizing well and are taking on fine colour for the time of year.

Apricot picking is well advanced. Early peaches are about over, Triumphs are now moving, and Rochesters will commence about the end of the month. Bradshaw plums are about ready. Duchess apples are going out as green cookers. Field tomatoes are coming in slowly.

Insect pests are below normal, excepting tent caterpillars, which are showing up badly in some sections.

Penticton, Kaleden, Oliver, Osoyoos, Keremeos, July 20

At Oliver and Osoyoos, Rochester and Yellow St. John peaches are now moving. Cantaloupes are beginning to move a little, but need more warm weather. Grasshoppers are pretty well controlled. Bartlett pears are moving in volume.

In the Penticton section apricots will be cleaned up shortly. Victor and Triumph peaches are now moving. Peach plums and Clapp's Favourite pears will be moving very shortly, with Bartletts following them closely.

Bartlett pears are now moving from Keremeos. Apricots are about cleaned up at Kaleden, and Victor and Triumph peaches are now moving. Peach plums and Clapp's Favourite pears will be moving very shortly, with Bartletts following them closely.

Kootenay and Arrow Lakes, July 17

The weather continues fairly warm and dry, although there have been several showers during the past two weeks that freshened up most crops.

Raspberries and Lambert cherries are moving out in large volume at this date. Cherry picking should be about over by the 25th and the raspberries by the end of the month. Strawberries are over and blackberries are just starting to ripen and shipments will be on in a few days.

All tree fruits are coming on in good shape. Pears and apples are of good size for this time of year. A few local, early apples are on the market for the green apple trade and early plums will be ripened soon.

The potato crop throughout the district is looking good and indications are for a larger production than last year. Other vegetable crops, on the whole, are coming on in good shape and the supply is well up to the demand for the local markets. A very heavy hay crop has been harvested throughout the district and gotten under shelter in excellent shape. Second cutting of alfalfa is now under way in some sections.

Grand Forks, July 17

The weather continues hot with continual daily winds which have dried up the crops to a serious extent in districts where water is not available. The spring grain crops from Greenwood to Bridesville are burning badly for lack of rainfall. In the irrigated block around Grand Forks the pumps are being kept busy pumping water for the var-

MARRIAGE

Ritchey—Fitzpatrick

The Seventh Day Adventist Church, at Rutland, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Sunday, July 15th, Elder E. M. Chapman officiating, when Laura Thelma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fitzpatrick, of Rutland, was united in matrimony to Mr. Amos Ritchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Ritchey, also of Rutland.

The church was beautifully decorated with an evergreen arch, in a colour scheme of green and white, hung with white wedding bells. Miss Lillian Ritchey played the wedding march.

The bride was supported by Miss Edith Carlson and Miss Doris Robinson, with two little flower girls, the Misses Wanda Lee Walls and Edna Selford, while the bride's brother, Mr. John Fitzpatrick, and Mr. George Rogers, supported the groom. After the ceremony Mr. John Hunter sang "Love's Crowning," accompanied by Mrs. Mae Miller. The church was crowded to capacity.

A reception was held after the service at the home of the bride's parents, when a large group of friends gathered to wish them happiness.

GORDON CAMPBELL VALLEY PREVENTORIUM

Cool Nights Create Need Of More Blankets

(Contributed)

This week the Preventorium is issuing an urgent appeal for blankets. During the cool nights the small patients feel the need of warm coverings, and at present the supply is limited. Blankets, old and new, will be most gratefully received. Please leave them at Mr. S. M. Gore's office, opposite the C. P. R. wharf.

Cutting of the second crop of alfalfa is under way and the quality of the hay is very good. Both the first and second crops have matured much earlier than usual. Hay is moving out slowly and prices are not particularly good.

The raspberry crop is about cleaned up and shipments are being made to jam factories. Local berries were of very good size this year and the yield and quality of the crop was good. Local early apples are on the market and the main crop is sizing and colouring up well. Damage from Codling Moth will be fairly extensive this season, especially where the spraying was neglected or not properly applied.

Creston, July 16

The weather continues hot, somewhat cloudy with variable winds from the south and west, but very little rain has fallen in the valley.

Strawberries and cherries are over, except for a few Olivets and Morellos, which will be finished this week. The strawberry crop was satisfactory but some loss resulted from rain. Some loss from rain has occurred on Bing cherries, but, owing to the rapid increase in yield of young cherry trees, the total crop exceeded the spring estimate. Raspberries are still coming in, but the peak is passed as non-irrigated patches are about over, and another week will see the season's activities drawing to a close. Prices on the whole have been fairly satisfactory, in fact somewhat better than last year. A few local apricots will be on the market this week. Early plums are turning colour and on early situations will be ready to ship very soon.

Early apples are going out more freely as "cookers," and Duchess and even Gravenstein have made their appearance. In the orchards, irrigating and thinning of winter varieties keeps the growers busy. As fruits still continue to ripen earlier than usual, events follow one another rapidly and many farmers have been obliged to hire extra help to keep pace with the season. Pears are sizing rapidly and, if the weather should continue hot, early varieties may be ready to pick by the end of the month.

Tomatoes also are coming along rapidly, and are now a good size on the first trusses, and a week's hot weather should see a few early ones on the market. All ground crops are progressing favourably and are advancing easily two to three weeks ahead of past years. The second crop of alfalfa is in bloom and as soon as the weather clears cutting will commence.

BENVOLIN

Messrs. Herbert Gorby and Hancie Ward, of Dawson, Manitoba, have left for their home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain and family, while holidaying in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Inglis enjoyed a week's visit from their nephew, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson and daughter, who returned to their home in Calgary, on Wednesday.

Both the production and consumption of oats in Canada have followed a downward trend since 1920.

Anglers Continue To Enjoy Good Sport In District Waters

Beaver and adjacent lakes continue to hold supremacy as the source of fine baskets of trout.

H. Edwards and S. Edwards visited Beaver recently and returned with a good basket, the largest weighing about five pounds. A really large one got away. Better luck next time!

Geo. Day was another successful fly fisherman at Beaver over the week-end, returning with a limit catch, the largest of which weighed four pounds. He also lost a big one.

Alex. Marshall took Jerry Oliver to Beaver for his first try at fishing in that body of water, and they came home with a nice catch.

D Lake is also making a good record. Mr. and Mrs. McCaffie, of Portland, Oregon, spent a week there at Sexsmith's Camp. They report good fishing and an exceptionally enjoyable outing.

Bob Little and party, of Toronto, recently spent ten days at D Lake and enjoyed good fly fishing.

Messrs. Offerdahl and Aberdeen also visited D Lake and had excellent catches.

Chas. Kirkby and party landed some fine fish on the fly at D Lake over the week-end.

Mrs. E. Gowen, mother of Chas. Gowen, is the latest disciple of Isaac Walton, making her first catch at Petrie's Camp, Woods Lake, a few days ago, the largest of which weighed around three pounds.

Miss M. Jones and Miss Joan Tilley also had good luck at Woods Lake, their heaviest fish weighing about three pounds.

Harry Blakeborough and son caught their limit over the week-end at the Belgo Dam.

With the increasing popularity of the Beaver Lake chain, not so much is heard now of Chute Lake, but it continues to yield good baskets, Charlie Shaylor bringing back a nice lot of trout over the week-end, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Balsillie also made a limit catch there.

Rev. C. E. Davis recently took some of his choir boys to Little River and Adams River dam, and they all made good catches.

The prize-winners in Spurrier's competitions during the week included Bob Haldane, who caught the largest fish on the fly, weighing seven pounds; Roy Haug, who landed the next largest, a six-pounder, and Col. Carey, who was awarded the prize for the nicest display of fish caught on the fly. His basket averaged three pounds each.

And here is a really truly fish story to conclude.

An East Kelowna fruit grower hooked a four-pound trout at Beaver Lake

An enjoyable tennis affair took place on the Centre courts last Thursday, when a party from Kelowna motored up for a series of friendly games. Included in the number were Mr. and Mrs. France, the Misses Brown and Smith and Messrs. DaFonseca, Deans and Hayes. The Centre list of players included Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman, the Misses Goldie, Mrs. Gled and Messrs. Gibson, Goldie Jr., and M. P. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman had for a week-end guest Mr. Porter and small daughter, of Kelowna.

A company of Boy Scouts of Rutland, under Scoutmaster A. W. Gray, are under canvas this week at the Kuhlhowah camp site. Among other excitements, the younger folk of the village are nightly enjoying softball contests with a selected team of Scouts.

Owing to the critical illness of his wife, the Rev. J. W. King was unable to take the usual service at St. Paul's on Sunday afternoon. Mr. S. Copeland led the service and Mr. Paul Kumugei talked on a text from Romans.

The regular meeting of the C.C.F. Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pixton on Monday evening. Several articles were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Macfarlane, one being on "The A.B.C. of Socialism," in which chattel slavery from the labourer's point of view was compared quite favourably with wage slavery at the present time when so many are hopelessly seeking a means of existence, the socialization of industry being pointed out as a remedy for both evils.

The meetings will be omitted during the summer months, to be resumed on the call of the executive.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexsmith, of Winnipeg, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar, motoring in from the Coast. Mrs. Sexsmith, a niece of Mrs. Caesar, is the daughter of Mrs. Bevan, of Winnipeg, who has many friends and acquaintances in the valley.

Mr. Lantinga, of McLeod, Alberta, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Falow.

on Sunday. It grabbed at the lure so greedily that in the excitement rod, line and reel went overboard and sank. The fisherman and his friend took the loss philosophically and enjoyed their lunch leisurely. Having secured a grappling iron, they returned to the scene five hours later and grappled successfully for the lost outfit. When recovered, marvellous to relate, the fish was still alive and kicking, firmly attached to the hook, and the angler pulled it

CANADIAN APPLES IN BRAZIL

Under an exchange of notes of December 4, 1931, Canada receives the minimum tariff and most-favoured-nation treatment on imports into Brazil. As a result, Canada is accorded duty-free entry of fresh fruit, including apples, because Brazil admits fresh fruit from Argentina duty free, and Canada as a most-favoured nation is entitled to the same tariff treatment. However, by a Brazilian decree of March, 1934, duty-free entry for apples or other goods enjoying special exemptions or reductions will in future apply only when they are consigned to individuals or firms. Goods consigned "to order" will be subject to the full duties, equivalent to about $2.18 per 100 pounds at the present rate of exchange.

PUPPET SHOW THRILLS HUNDREDS OF CHILDREN

Free Entertainment Provided By Gyro Club Is Greatly Enjoyed

Several hundred school children of the Kelowna district packed into the grandstand adjacent to the Aquatic Pavilion on Thursday evening last, when they were treated to novel entertainment in the form of a puppet show sponsored by the Kelowna Gyro Club, which paid all expenses. In addition to the show, each child was treated to a soured cream treat, eight or ten gallons of which was consumed by the appreciative juvenile guests.

The show, staged in front of the grandstand, was given by the Strolling Puppet Players, four talented Vancouver girls who are making a tour of the valley and who, it is understood, have featured practically all of their equipment. On the miniature stage, before their very eyes, the children saw and heard a "live" toyland in which bears, roosters, ducks, chickens, etc., cavorted amusingly, clowns cut-up, a negro tap danced and "Barnacle Bill the Sailor" did his stuff.

Unfortunately, owing to a fairly strong breeze and a noisy surf, dialogue and sound effects could not be heard clearly near the top of the stand, but this did not detract from the children's enjoyment.

CRESTED WHEAT GRASS A NATURAL WEED CHOKER

As fully explained in the House of Commons recently by the Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, crested wheat grass is well adapted for pasturing by virtue of its remarkable ability to withstand close grazing and severe trampling. It is a particularly suitable crop for feed production on the dry land areas of western Canada on account of its adaptation to dry conditions, its winter hardiness, and its ability to compete successfully with plants of other species. Seeding is believing, and an abandoned field in the vicinity of the Dominion Range Experiment Station at Marmora, Alberta, was seeded to this grass and was closely grazed from early spring until late fall for five continuous years without apparent injury to the grass cover. The soil was heavily infested with weed seeds, chiefly Russian thistle and mustard, yet the grass took possession to the almost complete exclusion of the weeds. Owing to its extensive root system which takes up all the moisture, weeds cannot grow in competition with it. All the latest information about crested wheat grass is contained in the pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Canada is specifically mentioned in an order issued by the German government respecting the importation of fruit into Germany. All imports from the Dominion must be shipped direct to specified ports and be subject on arrival to inspection for San Jose scale and railroad worm.

Canadian records show that by using two fans in refrigerator cars, one at each end in diagonally opposite corners, the temperature of fruit can be reduced a matter of 20 degrees in 8 or 10 hours fanning, enabling the fruit to reach the consumer in good condition.

"The new cement sidewalk on Lawson Avenue was finished last Friday."

"A petition is being circulated in the south end of the city with a request that the City engage another policeman to look after the property in that district."

"By an order of the Supreme Court, Mr. W. G. Benson, of Kelowna, has been appointed official liquidator of the British North American Tobacco Co."

"The express shipments of fruit and produce are very heavy these days. Yesterday morning they totalled 14 truck loads, or about 17,000 lbs., being composed principally of cherries, tomatoes, cucumbers and red and black currants."

"Lieut. Brooks, of Okanagan Landing, British Columbia's sole representative on the Canadian Bisley team, has been showing pretty good form at Bisley during the past week, taking thirty-ninth place in the 'Daily Telegraph' and a $10 prize, fifty-fourth place, $4, in the 'Stock Exchange' and 117th, $5.00, in the 'Graphic,' besides several sweepstakes prizes."

"The Kamloops Standard states that MacDonald Bros., the prominent railway contractors, are assembling their outfits at the Coast in readiness for the commencement of the Kamloops-Kelowna C.N.R. branch line, work on which will be commenced almost immediately. It is hoped the statement is correct."

"It will be learned with regret that the Rev. D. J. Welsh, the esteemed pastor of the Baptist church, has tendered his resignation, to take effect on Sept. 30th, which date will complete five years' ministry here. A meeting of the congregation was held last night to consider the matter and regretfully decided to accept the resignation. Mr. Welsh has no definite plans and, not being in the best of health, will probably take a rest for a while."

All the twenty-seven candidates from Kelowna at the High School Entrance examinations were successful.

Hon. Martin Burrell, M.P. for Yale-Cariboo and Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion cabinet, visited Kelowna on July 17th and 18th, accompanied by Mrs. Burrell. During his stay he witnessed the finals of the Okanagan Lawn Tennis Tournament and bowled an over in a local cricket match, "showing such skill," says the item, "that that reliable batsman, Mr. George Packer, was able to score only one run off him." Mr. Burrell (now Parliamentary Librarian at Ottawa) was at one time a cricketer of renown. In the match the married members of the Kelowna Cricket Club trounced the bachelors by 101 runs to 44.

A shopwalker observed a woman attempting to conceal a hat. After watching her movements for some time he went up and touched her politely on the shoulder.

"Excuse me," he said, "but have you bought that hat, madam?"

The woman started. "Oh," she replied, rather taken aback, "I was just about to try it on, do you think it would suit me?"

The shopwalker smiled graciously. "Yes," he said, "I think madam has the face to carry off that hat."

PRAIRIE FARMERS TREK TO CARIBOO

Many Visitors Consider Becoming Permanent Settlers

According to accounts from Queen's, farmers from the prairies are beginning to flock into the Cariboo. Droughts, cyclones, grasshoppers and uncertain crops are driving many who have learned of the opportunities for settlers along the upper reaches of the Fraser River to investigate the possibilities of the district. While a number are planning on just making the trip, many have the idea in mind of taking up land and becoming permanent settlers. After spending years on the prairies, the lure of running water, broad fertile meadows, standing timber and the chance to pan gold in many places is too strong to resist, and judging from present indications, the Cariboo should gain many substantial settlers this year.

A few days ago a truck came over the Cariboo Highway with seven former grain growers from the fields of Saskatchewan. They are looking for land but in the meantime plan on doing some prospecting and, in the fall, some hunting of big game. Several of them have already decided to send for their families and to settle down, while all agree that the country is a revelation to them and the most promising they have seen in years.

FACTORS IN FRUIT JELLY MAKING

(Experimental Farms Note)

Three substances are essential to a good jelly. They are pectin, sugar and acid. Pectin is the primary jellying agent. It varies considerably in fruits both in quality and quantity. Analysis of small fruits, in the chemical laboratories of the Central Experimental Farm, has shown how readily pectin deteriorates. To retain their maximum jellying capacity, these fruits should be picked when just ripe and should be used as soon as possible after picking.

Sugars play an important part in jelly formation. Texture, flavour and yield of jelly are largely determined by the amount of sugar added. Ordinarily, the best jellies contain about 66 to 68 per cent of sugar in the finished product, but the necessary amount of sugar to be added will vary with the composition of the fruit. Too much sugar in proportion to pectin and acid is one of the most common causes of failure in jelly making. Other things being equal, a weak jelly results from the addition of too much sugar and a tough jelly from the addition of too little.

The acid content, or more correctly, the active acidity of fruits is the third essential of jelly formation. If it is too high, "sweetening" will occur. If it is too low, the jelly will not "set." All fruits contain acid in varying amount. In general, the acid in the fruit provides sufficient active acidity for the making of a good jelly, provided that sufficient pectin and sugar are present.

Investigations in the chemical laboratories have shown how important it is to obtain a proper balance between pectin, sugar and active acidity to produce the best jellies.

A combination of 0.2 per cent acid and 0.5 per cent pectin with 67 per cent sugar was found to give a very satisfactory product.

PRUNING FLOWERING SHRUBS

(Experimental Farms Note)

Shrubs should be pruned to promote development of strong branches and good foliage. Old or dead wood should be removed, particularly from the centre of the bush, so that light and air may circulate freely.

If the new growth is too crowded, this also should be thinned out. It is not advisable to "trim" a shrub all round, as this tends to make the growth more dense and the graceful habit of the shrub is lost. Of course, branches that have grown too long can be shortened, but as a general rule growth should be cut out either from the ground or within a few inches of it.

Spring flowering shrubs form their buds early in summer for next season's bloom, so that pruning must be done immediately after the bloom is over. If delayed until winter, many of the flower buds will be destroyed and next year there will be little bloom.

Among the shrubs that should be treated in this way are lilac, mock orange, spiraea and viburnums. A fairly safe rule is to remove one-fifth of the oldest stems each year. In lilacs the difference between the size of the flowers on old wood and that on younger branches is so great that it is difficult to believe they come from the same bush.

Summer bloomers which bloom on shoots of the current season's growth should be pruned when dormant so that strong new growth is formed in spring; hydrangea paniculata, hybrid tea and hybrid perpetual roses and

GUILD OF HEALTH

III. John 12: "We also bear record: and ye know that our record is true." If we truly seek God we shall find Him. When we really find Him we shall follow Him and love Him. And He will manifest His will to us. We shall try to fulfill His will and will gladly witness for Him that others may know what great things He has done for us. We shall also meditate on His love. This increases our receptivity to God; and is therefore a means of effecting a change in all our habits of feeling and reacting in the affairs of daily life.

By the silent prayer that meditation is, we seek to prepare ourselves for the descent of the Holy Spirit into our hearts, for the willing death of "me" and "mine," for the birth into newness of life, and for the ascent of the true innermost self into a realization of its eternal home in God.

BEAVER HOLDS UP TRAFFIC ON ROAD

While He Hauls Poplar Tree Across Highway For His Larder

Near Jasper Park Lodge, a few days ago, with cars coming and going, a beaver held up traffic while he slowly and carefully dragged a ten-foot poplar tree down the bank, across the road and into Lac Beauvert. He cared nothing for cars nor people, his one thought being to get that toothsome meal into the lake and enjoy a feast.

He got up on a stone and posed for numerous delighted visitors while he gorged himself. Then, sliding into the water again, he ferried the tree in the direction of his home, and traffic returned to normal.

Approximately one-fourth of the habitable land on earth is under British control.

NOTES AND NEWS FROM LONDON TOWN

A Monthly Causerie

Dominion Day In London

The High Commissioner's reception at Canada House on Dominion Day has gradually grown to be one of the most joyous of London's official functions. At once brilliant and democratic, this year it was freer from formality than ever, and the whole atmosphere was, as it should be, essentially Canadian in its spirit of camaraderie. The band of the Irish Guards played in the entrance hall, the High Commissioner and Mrs. Ferguson received in the imposing chamber which was the late Peter Larkin's pride and joy, and up and down the grand staircase for two solid hours there passed in a constant stream members of the diplomatic corps. Ministers of the Crown, nobilities in art, science and letters, and humble Canadians. To them it was a genuine birthday, a reunion, and one heard nothing but a series of exclamations of surprise as one unexpected encounter succeeded another.

The Dominion Day dinner at Grosvenor House was as usual a dreary and expensive affair, staid through and through with that starchiness which the wearing of a boiled shirt seems somehow inevitably to communicate. There was some hope that the Duke of York, who was the guest of honour, might seize the occasion to announce that he and the Duchess would attend the Melbourne centenary celebrations via Vancouver. But the Duke confined himself to the usual stock phrases which form the substance of all Dominion Day speeches, and closed with the hope "that the patience and enterprise which the people of your Dominion have shown through times of depression will lead them in the near future back to the road of prosperity."

The Capone Touch

The series of political assassinations conducted under the eye of Herr Hitler, and carried out by summary court-martial under the presidency of Herr Himmler, (a most promising Fouquier-Tinville of the third Reich) establishes the extent of the gulf which separates Germany today from other Western nations. Nobody particularly laments the dead Nazi leaders, but what is most ominous is the method of their passing. That ethics of the gangster should replace the forms of law which, as the safeguards of justice, are regarded as sacrosanct in every modern and civilized state, augurs ill for the re-establishment of international relations on a footing of good faith and good will. The sharp deterioration of a moratorium on its medium, and the consequent delay and the service of the Daves and Young loans is a more positive menace to the peace of Europe than any amount of sabre-rattling. "The Cauldron," says an observer lately returned from Munich, a B. C. man, by the way, who has been living in Germany these last five years, "the cauldron is beginning to boil," which means that the time is fast approaching when the failure of the National-Socialist regime will be marked by adventures in the foreign field. British Columbia, happily, is far removed from the pangs and fears of Europe, but not part of the Empire, however distant from the storm-centre, can afford to remain indifferent to events so big with future consequences to all the world.

B. C. And The Fairbridge School Scheme

The Child Emigration Society, founded twenty-five years ago by a young Rhodes Scholar, Kingsley Fairbridge, is perhaps little known in Canada because its activities have hitherto been confined to Western Australia. The Society was established for the purpose of "shifting the orphanages of Britain to the shores of Greater Britain," and there was a moment in the days of its inception when, urged by Frank Day, of New Brunswick, the founder did solicit farm space in Canada. Ultimately, the necessary opening was found at Perth, Western Australia, and there, on 160 acres, with a General and Mrs. McAdam, supported by the High Commissioner for Canada, will hold a reception in their honour at Grosvenor House. A few hours later they will be at the B. C. for their first performance on the air. On the following day they are to play at the Tower of London, and in the next twenty-four hours see what they can of the capital, broadcast again in the Empire programme of the B. C. and appear before the Pathe Film Company for a series of sound recordings. Proceeding south, they will spend a day in Torquay, go on to Plymouth and then enroute for the West of England and Festival at Bungle, Cornwall. At the moment they have at this point a vacant week which they should have no difficulty in filling. July 29th will find them at Eastbourne, and on August 5th they will pass through London again en route to Leicester. Negotiations are also for securing engagements for them in Belgium and France, from August 8th to 18th, and on the 19th to the 25th they appear at Bognor Regis. August 26th will see them back in London again for the purpose of entraining for the north, where from August 27th to September 1st they will be at Dunfermline. On September 8th they leave Greenock for Montreal. It need scarcely be added that their visit here is being looked forward to by all music-lovers with the liveliest interest.

Vancouver Boys' Band

The Vancouver Boys' Band, which will be touring the Old Country from the middle of July to the first week in September, have before them a tremendous programme. Within an hour of their arrival at Liverpool they drive to Manchester, where they will give two concerts in the famous Belle Vue Gardens. From Manchester they proceed to London, where the Acting Agent General and Mrs. McAdam, supported by the High Commissioner for Canada, will hold a reception in their honour at Grosvenor House. A few hours later they will be at the B. C. for their first performance on the air. On the following day they are to play at the Tower of London, and in the next twenty-four hours see what they can of the capital, broadcast again in the Empire programme of the B. C. and appear before the Pathe Film Company for a series of sound recordings. Proceeding south, they will spend a day in Torquay, go on to Plymouth and then enroute for the West of England and Festival at Bungle, Cornwall. ## Talk Of The Town

The passing of Mr. W. L. Griffith, who was for nineteen years secretary to the office in London of the High Commissioner for Canada, removes a man who in his heyday of service under three successive High Commissioners—Lord Strathcona, Sir George

U.S. SPEEDS MANUFACTURE OF NAVAL GUNS

The gun factory at the Washington Naval Yard is now working twenty-four hours a day on guns for battle cruisers recently authorized. The photo shows a five-inch gun being placed on its mounting.

Perley and Mr. Peter Larkin—did much to strengthen Anglo-Canadian associations. It was particularly during the 11th, J. H. Turner's long regime that his relations with the Agent General's office were most active, and his death has closed a definite chapter in Canadian history. The death too of Bishop Perrin, for eighteen years Bishop of Columbia, also marks the passing of an era as well as of a much-loved figure of the immediate past. The Acting Agent-General represented the Province both at the funeral and at the memorial service.

Waterloo Bridge is not only coming down but is now actually in process of demolition. Readers in British Columbia who have a taste for antiquity and who may desire to secure a memento of Rennie's masterpiece, can purchase one of the granite balustrades from Sir William Arrol & Sons, Ltd., the contractors, for the modest sum of $5. The jawbreaker is now being taken kindly by the hand, and special crossing-places have been marked out for him on the asphalt at about sixty points in the Central London district. A pony ridden by a lady near Hyde Park was so astounded by this unfamiliar crisscrossing of white paint beneath his feet that he gallantly rose in the air, and cleared it as though it were a five-barred gate. Although the regulations (London Traffic (Pedestrian Crossing Places) Provisional Regulations, 1934) make provision for the precedence of pedestrians over traffic at these points, and a few for a day or so put the regulation to the test by sauntering across the deadliest junctions in a lordly, leisurely manner. The innovation as a whole does not seem to have had much effect one way or the other, for the pedestrian continues to mistook the efficacy of the magic white lines while drivers stonily ignore them.

Talking of pedestrians and petrol, it is much to be deplored that the Rodeo staged by Tex Austin at the White City has had only a limited success. So much protest has been voiced in Parliament and elsewhere by humanitarians and similar sentimentalists that, in spite of a good press and extensive advertising, the public seems to have thoroughly believed that there was an element of cruelty somewhere, and have accordingly very half-heartedly supported one of the most superbly romantic shows London has seen for years.

This has been a great season for pageants. We have had a Pageant of Parliament enacted somewhat tame at the Albert Hall, a pageant at Rummvmede, colourful and colossal, in which 5,000 performers re-created episodes from seventeen centuries of English history on the actual site of the signing of the Magna Carta, and, finally, there was the pageant of Vattenhous, a little village on the Berkshire Downs, which celebrated the one thousand and fifty-sixth anniversary of the defeat of the Danes by King Alfred at Ethendune, as Vattenden, they say, was called a thousand years ago.

While on the subject of anniversaries, does any north-country reader in B. C. recall the celebration known as "Nick o' Thumbs" which is said to date back to Roman times, and which is still annually carried out in North-East Lancashire?

The present epidemic of pageants will be brought to a brilliant close in the month of July, when the King and Queen formally open the new Mersey Tunnel, and Liverpool gives itself over to a whole week of pageantry. Having regard to the present parlous condition of the shipping industry, it is to be hoped that the pageant play to be performed, "The Turning of the Tide," will be prophetic of better times to come.

An historical spectacle of a very different order, though no less characteristically English in its appeal, is the exhibition of 42 cricket pictures from the collection of Sir Jeremiah Coleman, which has been arranged at the Tate Gallery to coincide with the visit of the Australian Test team. It is perhaps noteworthy not so much for its artistic significance as for its human associations, for it contains many portraits of cricket heroes of the past, and such curiosities as Charles Dickens as a bowler.

Speaking of pictures, it may be noted that the centenary of the invention of photography has just been celebrated at Lacock Abbey, in Wiltshire, where Henry Fox Talbot in 1834 first succeeded in producing photographic impressions on paper.

Finally, there is to be recorded the passing of one more London landmark in the closing down of the Red Lion Brewery, St. Katherine's Wav, which has existed near the Tower of London for nearly five centuries. One of the four largest in London, the brewery was capable of producing 520,000 barrels annually, and its last brew, carried out on June 23, was a mighty one of many barrels.

Germany ranks first in the number of motorcycles owned and operated.

TREATING IVY POISONING

Few people are immune from the effects of poison ivy, but most campers know to their sorrow that poisoning by this mean plant is no joke. Many remedies are suggested to allay the burning and irritation, the best being the immediate washing of the parts affected with good strong yellow laundry soap. An application of absorbent cotton saturated with a solution of common baking soda is simple and efficacious; also daubing with a 3 per cent solution of potassium permanganate is widely recommended. Iodine tincture has also been found to be useful.

Once the blisters have appeared, all rubbing should be avoided and care taken to localize infection by painting iodine around the edges of the sores. However, in cases of severe poisoning the aid of a physician should be obtained. On return from a day's outing where there was danger of meeting poison ivy, the liberal use of the strong yellow soap might prevent much suffering. Indeed, it is a good plan for campers and other holiday makers to carry a piece of this soap with them.

As a protection when going among ivy, says the Dominion Botanist, it is well to wash all exposed skin surfaces with a 5 per cent solution of ferric chloride in water, allowing it to remain on. This, of course, is merely a preventive measure, intended to neutralize the poison ivy oil. If oil is suspected to have reached the unprotected skin, scrubbing with laundry soap under running water is recommended to remove it before it penetrates. Dusting dry baking powder or boracic acid on oozing sores should be avoided, as they appear to seal the sores over with a hard crust, thus aggravating conditions. Frequent exposure of the sores to air gives relief.

Establishment of an industry to aid the cherry growers of the B. C. Interior was assured when the Provincial Government approved a guarantee of a bank loan of $6,000 to the Regal Fruit Products, Ltd., for a processing plant. The plant will be established at Summerland, and the initial plans call for the processing of 100 tons of Royal Anne cherries for filling market requirements in the future.

BIG PROFITS FROM DOLLAR A TON ORE

Alaska Juneau Mine Has Phenomenally Low Costs

The Alaska Juneau gold mine, the biggest low grade mine in the world, is out to set a new record for bullion production during 1934. Gross earnings for the month of June were $389,000 as compared with $285,000 in the same month last year. The first six months gross for the property was $2,257,350 as compared with $1,604,000 for the first half of 1933.

The Alaska Juneau handles from twelve to fifteen thousand tons of ore every twenty-four hours, and is showing a substantial profit on ore that runs less than one dollar per ton. Owing to installation of the most modern mining machinery known to the mining world, they are able to keep their mining and milling costs under fifty cents per ton, and it is the ambition of the management to cut this extremely low figure in half.

From many of the feeding tests carried out at the Dominion Experimental Farms and elsewhere, it has been found that barley is an excellent substitute for corn in the feeding of livestock.

THE RIFLE

Six Hundred Yards Distance Again Proves Difficult

Seven riflemen enjoyed a practice shoot at the Glenmore range on Sunday, firing at 200, 500 and 600 yards under fairly good conditions except at the longest distance, when the light became variable and the bullseye took on a hazy appearance. Until then the sky had been lightly overcast and the light remained generally steady, but the sudden changes to bright sunshine and cloud alternately that ensued rendered it very difficult to maintain uniform elevation. The best shooting was done at 500 yards, at which distance all but one of the marksmen averaged inners or better.

Trying out his Ross again, G. N. Kennedy put on a fine 32 at 200, but did not do so well with it at the other distances, his aggregate being 90. He beat this figure with his Lee-Enfield, with 30, 31, 30 at the respective distances. None of the other riflemen reached 30 at 200 and only one, G. C. Rose, at 600, but at 500 two others equalled Kennedy's 31, H. McCall and E. L. Adam.

Detailed scores (200, 500, 600 yards and total):

G. N. Kennedy, 30, 31, 30—91; G. C. Rose, 27, 29, 30—86; J. C. Martin, 28, 28, 29—85; E. L. Adam, 29, 31, 25—85; H. McCall, 26, 31, 27—84; D. Ellis, 23, 28, 26—77; W. E. Munro, 25, 20, 26—71.

Kennedy Cup Shoot Next Sunday

The individual competition for the Kennedy Cup, ten shots on score at 200 yards, regulation Lee-Enfield rifles only with aperture or open sights, will be held at the Glenmore range next Sunday, July 29th.

Captains for the teams in the competition for the Bulloch-Lade Shield, which will be held on August 12th, will be selected from the men standing highest in the cup shoot.

AQUATIC RIPPLES

Preparations Proceeding Apace For Regatta

The annual Regatta will soon be here and things are getting lined up very well. The Committee has been working hard and all things necessary to make the Regatta a success are receiving attention. Many novelty events will be included in this year's programme, amongst them the greasy pole, which has not been a feature for several years. The balloon, apple box and other entertaining races will be put on again.

A big feature this year will be the championship diving and swimming events, which will bring entries from all over British Columbia and Washington.

The Vancouver Rowing Club will be up in great strength, and will bring some eight shells with them, including an eight-oar, the first to be seen on Okanagan Lake. It will race in a handicap event with two four-oar crews.

The preliminary programmes and entry forms are now out and may be obtained from the Secretary at the Aquatic.

The Lady of the Lake contest is going strong. At the present time, Miss Empress (Toots Culbard) is leading the field with Miss Aquatic (Diana DeHart) a close second, and the others are all bunched closely.

On Thursday night, the second evening of the Regatta, there will be a wrestling match, commencing at 7.30, which will feature Des Anderson of Seattle vs. Bob Cummings, of Ohio, and Karl Martin, of Honolulu, vs. Young Tarzan of Portland. This is expected to be the best wrestling display seen here for some time, and all sport fans should witness the matches.

The war canoes are practising hard. This year there will be entries from Penticton in this thrilling sport. Some fast outboard motorboat racing is expected in the "C" class, in which there will be at least five entries, including boats from Salmon Arm and Vernon.

There has been a revival of interest in the ancient art of sailboat handling, and the sailing races promise to be the best yet seen.

Exhibitions of surf-board riding will be given both days of the Regatta.

The contest for the boat and outboard motor is arousing keen interest. This fine outfit can be seen in the show windows of the B. McDonald Garage.

Swimmers and divers are all practising hard, and by the time of the Regatta the local entries should make a good showing.

If you don't believe in co-operation, just observe what happens to a wagon when one wheel comes off.

BASEBALL

Oroville Too Strong For Kelowna

The senior team travelled to Oroville on Sunday last to play the last league fixture of the Southern Okanagan Baseball League, and came home with the short end of a 7-1 count. This was the final game of the league schedule, but the game that was played here at the first of the season between Peachland and Kelowna was protested and Peachland won the protest. This means that another game will have to be played between these two teams and, should the locals win, then it will make a three-way tie for third place in the league standings and a play-off berth.

This game will be played on Sunday at the Athletic Park and will start at 5 p.m. It should be a good game and a good crowd should be on hand to see it. Kelowna has played Peachland three times this year and all have been good games, two of them going extra innings.

While the locals were losing to Oroville, Penticton were taking Summerland for a ride to the tune of 5-0.

The final league standing, with the Peachland-Kelowna game thrown out, is as follows:—

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Penticton	10	9	1	.900
Oroville	10	8	2	.800
Peachland	9	4	5	.444
Summerland	10	4	6	.400
Kelowna	10	3	6	.333
Oliver	1	1	9	.111

CRICKET

Barnett Scores Century Against Salmon Arm

Due largely to a splendid innings of 121 by Barnett, Kelowna was victorious in a Spencer Cup fixture with Salmon Arm, played in the City Park on Sunday, by 185 runs to 86, thus wiping out the defeat suffered at Salmon Arm on July 8th, when the Kelowna eleven was much weakened by absence of its strongest players at the B. C. Cricket Week at Vancouver.

Kelowna has now won three matches in the series for the cup and will not have to play again unless Salmon Arm manages to defeat Vernon once more in the remaining game between those teams. In that event, Kelowna and Salmon Arm will have to play off. Vernon has lost all three matches played but is out for revenge in the last one of the season.

Barnett was first man in on Sunday and his innings was a merry one, including four sixes and twelve fours. He had a good partner in Johnston, who batted more cautiously for 29, but the rest of the batsmen failed to accomplish much. Elphinstone was high man for Salmon Arm with 22.

Coming Matches

Next Sunday, the City will play Woodside in the City Park.

A strong Vancouver eleven will visit the Okanagan during the third week of August and will play at Kelowna on dates not absolutely settled, but probably on the 17th and 18th. A match will be played with a local eleven and the other game will be with an Okanagan all-star aggregation. A further announcement will be made when the dates are definitely arranged.

TENNIS

Local Club Tournament Now Under Way

The annual tournament of the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club started this week. There are five open events for the club championships, carrying challenge cups, one junior boys and five handicap events. A few black spaces have been left on the draw sheets for those who have been late in entering, and they are advised to be quick about it or they will be out of luck. It is proposed to finish the first round by Monday next. The Tournament Committee are determined to have all events played off without delay and are talking of scratching those who do not get their matches played off in time.

Last Chance For Tennis Instruction

Mr. H. E. Kelter, the tennis instructor, is back in Kelowna after a very busy time at Ewing's Landing, Okanagan Centre and Vernon. His services were much appreciated everywhere and he was so much in demand at the Vernon Country Club that he was forced to stay there for an extra week. Those desiring instruction should get in touch with Mr. Kelter at the Tennis Club as soon as possible, as he will not be here much longer.

SOFTBALL

East Kelowna Leads In Play-Offs

The softball season is winding up and the final play-off games are now being played between East Kelowna, the district winners, and Toe H. the City League champions.

The first game was played on Tuesday evening at the Park, when the country boys took the city lads for a ride by the score of 8-1. The second game will be played on Friday (tomorrow) and if a third game is necessary it will be played on Tuesday next.

BRITISH WAR PLANES DEMONSTRATED BEFORE POSSIBLE FOREIGN BUYERS

Following the recent public display by the Royal Air Force, Britain became a salesman for its newest military and naval aircraft. Many orders were taken from nearly two thousand representatives of almost every country in the world who viewed the third annual trade show arranged by the Society of British Aircraft Constructors. In the picture foreign visitors to the show are seen inspecting something useful in case of war. A machine-gun nest, attached to the underside of a bombing plane, is being demonstrated before them as possible buyers.
